

BULLETIN NUMBER GT563, 5 NOVEMBER 1992

Global 2000 Source files, TAPs & tailoring zaps

This bulletin announces some changes to the prices of some ancillary services for programmers. All the prices are being increased significantly; the prices had not been increased at all since the services were introduced in the early 1980s. These price increases should cover the costs of the programming staff involved.

The new prices apply to all orders received after 31st January 1993.

GLOBAL 2000 SOURCES

The price of a source generation of Global 2000 source will be increased to £500 per module per generation. The charge for a re-generation of a new version of an earlier source generation will be increased to £150.

SOURCES OF TERMINAL ATTRIBUTE PROGRAMS (TAPs)

The price of source for a TAP will be increased to £150.

SPECIAL TERMINAL ATTRIBUTE PROGRAMS (TAPs)

The price of a specially-written TAP continues to be time-and-materials-based; however prospective purchasers should think in terms of half a day's work costing £200.

TAILORING ZAPS

The price of a specially-written zap to amend the operation of a program will be increased to £150 per pair (we produce a 'reversal' zap for every tailoring zap).
