Advanced Configurations Course
25th November

Due to public demand we are pleased to announce a non–scheduled Advanced Configurations course which will take place on 25th November 1992. As this course runs rather infrequently we would strongly recommend that anyone considering attending within the next few months should book on this course now.

The course is described in the reseller handbook but the main topics are:

· The bootstrap process

· Configuring disks, diskettes, terminals and printers

· Use of memory and extended memory

· Advanced customisation.

Places are available for £200 plus VAT (less 40% reseller training discount for advance payment).
